V E T R A

Vetra emerges from the idea that living spaces should adapt to the rhythms of life. Its modular forms resemble stones shaped by water, with rounded volumes that encourage comfort and flexibility. Inspired by Brazilian modernism and Italian modular design of the 1970s, the system allows individual elements to come together in dynamic compositions that prioritize comfort and freedom of arrangement.

STRUCTURE

The structure features a reforested solid wood frame. Loose backrests are supported by molded

MDF panels, while the seat incorporates medium-density foam with a soft pillow-top layer.

Cushions are filled with polyester fiber
